

OLD ELEPHANT FOOT

Style: India Pale Ale

ABV: 7%

IBU: 80

Highly hopped, medium bodied ale; a true hop head beer! This hoppy IPA is bittered by generous portions of Northern Brewer and Centennial hops for 80 IBUs and finished with Cascade in the kettle and then dry-hopped with some more Cascade and Centennial.

David's brother Mark Doble (Owner of Aviator Brewing Company – NC) used to have a rendition of a hollowed out old elephant foot that he used as a garbage can back in his college days. Although this IPA has been homebrewed by the Doble family for years, it never really had a name other than IPA... we just wanted to drink good beer! Then in 1995, we answered Tampa's need for a one stop homebrew shop and opened Brew Shack Homebrew Supply. One of the house recipe's we introduced was our deliciously hoppy IPA but it still needed a name. After one of our many late night drinking sessions during non-business hours, that old elephant foot garbage can came up in conversation and the rest was history. Our IPA finally had a name: Old Elephant Foot IPA!
